John Lackstrom was born in Seattle, Washington. Upon earning his Ph.D. in Linguistics from the University of Washington in 1971, he joined the faculty of Utah State University as a professor of linguistics and Spanish that year. Dr. John Lackstrom was one of the founders of the Master of Second Language Teaching program at Utah State University. Upon his retirement in 2011, the department began organizing an annual student research symposium in his honor. In connection with these symposia, selected student papers have been published on the university’s Digital Commons, freely accessible to internet users anywhere, thus increasing Dr. Lackstrom’s influence around the world.
